209 words

Koko Taylor's grit, Bonnie Raitt's finesse, Maria Muldaur's sass, Little Walter and Sonny Terry harmonica styles describe Tracy K, the veteran entertainer from Manitoba with a remarkable history. Making a home for three children early in her solo career, she managed to win several awards over four number one album releases since 2000. Tracy K is a Toronto Blues Society alumni of the Women's Blues Revue, Harmonica Workshop, Blues Summit Showcases, and Talent Search. A 2018 Western Canadian Music Awards Blues Artist of the Year nominee, she was also an International Blues Challenge band and duo finalist in Memphis, Tennessee. CBC Ottawa recorded Tracy K for "Canada Live" and "Canada Reads, Ontario Rocks", and she's written a song for and appeared in two movies. Her duo shared a private double bill in the Caribbean with John Sebastian and opened for Rambling Jack Elliot in Canada. Her band has shared stages with A-list Blues artists. Touring festivals, theatres, clubs, pubs and house concerts across Canada into the United States she's won hearts with her charisma and chutzpa, specializing in 1920-40 blues with her acoustic partner of over twenty years, or kicking it up a notch in an electric band featuring originals and solid blues hiring the best local supporting musicians.
See www.tracyk.ca for a deeper dive.